Ostrom

Mar 2025 — Now / Germany / Senior Product Designer

The first virtual power plant app in Germany and an expat-friendly energy provider. Energy is invisible and complex (kWh, battery modes, grid pricing) and were to to make it feel simple on a phone. Lifted weekly engaged visits per device user by 17% and shipped 5 major releases in 8 months across devices monitoring, statistics, and connection flows. Built new UI parts, prototyped flows in code, and pushed hard on micro-interactions and craft.

Beyond IC work, I hired and onboarded a designer, owned quarterly planning, and presented design strategy to the C-level.

* FinTech

Aug 2023 — Dec 2024 / Germany / Product Designer

One of Europe's largest consumer fintechs, serving 8M+ customers. Took a company-wide performance review tool from 0 to 1 and shipped to 94% completion rate, still used today. Designed multi-step flows for millions of users on mobile and web, including a source-of-wealth flow and an account-protection system used across teams.

Led a craft pass on micro-interactions across the most-used flows. Raised the polish and feel of the product with positive feedback from the C-level.

* Mentoring

May 2023 — Apr 2025 / Worldwide / Mentor

Led 70+ mentorship sessions with junior and mid-level designers. Recognized in the top 1% of design mentors globally.

JetBrains

* Web

Nov 2022 — Jul 2023 / Netherlands / Product Designer

Designed Grazie, an AI writing tool for developers and creators. Owned onboarding, in-product feedback, and cross-sell across desktop, web, and browser extension. Found product-market fit through fast prototyping and corridor testing. Turned a complex tool into something people could pick up in a minute.

from 2017

Owned the full design process for Yandex.Telephony, a B2B SaaS that let thousands of small businesses run their customer calls: routing, call handling, reporting. Redesigned the mobile app around its most-used journeys and moved it to a new design system.

Education

British Higher School of Design

Sep 2020 — Aug 2021 / Russia

Digital product design and mobile application design. Final project for Badoo made it to the U AWARDS short list.
